ONA Convention Report

by Mike Hollingshead

Kudos to David, who gave a great seminar about the Edgy Coin Project! Fortunately, all attendees had a real interest in the talk and added to David's plans for refining the methodology.

Bob Fritsch gave an excellent talk on polymer money, its evolution and available research options which included an online catalogue updated frequently which seemed like a better option than the usual Pick catalogue which quickly becomes outdated. I'll get that access link for the newsletter, the SWCS might consider purchasing a club access for that catalogue for the benefit of all of us.

Rick Dupuis gave a nice talk in the early part of Saturday which detailed some measures you can take with local bulletins, radio stations and cable stations for club promotion.

Rose and Helen were kept busy in the hospitality suite and bourse floor delivering snacks to the dealers. Rose made a good call by selling snacks to non-registrants in the hospitality which likely reduced greatly the excess inventory. Thanks Rose, Helen and all your helpers.

Peter Becker, Sean Sinclair and Robb and Lisa McPherson were on the floor and keeping the show working smoothly.

Brad Small, Historic Coin and Currency from London, agreed to act as a receiving agent for scrap gold and silver for SWCS members. I sold him some gold bullion at a very acceptable rate, better than local dealers offer.

Mary-Anne Luzba, who works with Linda Robinson on the Canadian Numismatic Show Calendar, gave me extra copies of their calendar to hand out at the Guelph Show. Those two are a couple of firecrackers! So happy that they look after that important promotional publication.

COIN COLLECTIONS I HAVE ACQUIRED (OR NOT)

true but strange tales from Mike Hollingshead's life in numismatics

The Almost Sequential Bank Notes

In the late-1990's I was called to view a collection in Rockwood, Ontario that belonged to a young lady. She said that her mother had died some time ago and she wanted to sell the collection that she inherited after it had sat for some years.

Like a lot of beneficiaries, she had no interest in becoming a numismatist and only wanted to declutter her home of the inheritance.

There were some silver dollars of Canada and the USA, a few mint sets and—a stack of 1954 $1 bank notes in uncirculated condition!

When I looked closely at those $1 bank notes, I was shocked to find that all the serial numbers were "semi-sequential", only the even-numbered notes were there, the odd-numbered notes were missing! She explained that her sister and her were joint beneficiaries so they had divided up the notes, "one for you, one for me, one for you, etc". I bought the entire collection, despite the notes not being sequential; at least they were uncirculated.

A few years later I was recounting the story to a group of friends at Waterloo Coin Society when Jim McHugh, a retired teacher/vest-pocket dealer from Cambridge Ontario, started laughing. Jim has always been a lighthearted soul, easy to talk to, easy to do business with, and is always in a positive frame of mind. He told us that he had purchased the collection from the other sister and was likewise flustered that he had a pile of uncirculated odd-numbered semi-sequential bank notes!

Unfortunately, both of us had liquidated our respective hoards so it was no longer possible to re-assemble the stack into a brick of sequential bank notes. But, the laughs we shared over the improbable coincidence was priceless!

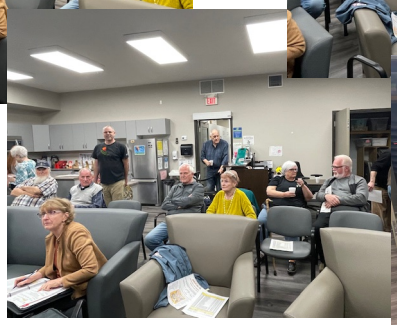
1954 $1 notes, these in consecutive pairs rather than the unusual even-number-only set mentioned here! (Photo from coincommunity.com)

SWCS May 1st, 2024 —Meeting Report

Photos by David Carpenter

Members' Attendance Draw: Tonight the membership draw was back down to $5 after last month's was claimed. We drew Peter Agombar's name, and as Peter was not in attendance, the draw will again climb to the meteoric level of $10 for June's meeting. This one is stoooopid easy to win, folks... just show up!

Speaking of attendance, we'd like to welcome our newest club member Ray Doering who joined us in person for the May meeting. Welcome, Ray!



Show and Tell: Helen Braun brought in a (You Can) Bank On Carling 100 (per cent) advertising note. These were a novel business card given out circa 1965, and had pictures of different sales representatives in different regions, this one picturing R.A. Bovaird. The brewing plants pictured on the reverse are the Carling Waterloo plant (upper left, sold to Labatt's in 1974 and now demolished); the Carling Windsor plant (upper right, closed in 1969 and now demolished); and the Carling Rexdale plant in Toronto (bottom, now operating under Molson-Coors). These details were published by Collectors of Canadian Brewery Advertising web site https://www.brewerianacollectors.ca/feature/carling-bank-note-business-cards/ .

Scott Douglas showed us his Aikenhead's Hardware card with attached 1967 British penny and description of the then upcoming decimalization changes.

Sean passed around some Nordic coins he recently purchased.

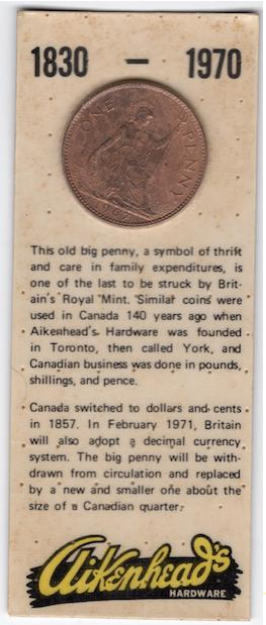
Remember to bring in your recently found and recently re-discovered treasures to share with the group. Everyone has something interesting to share, and no one person has seen everything! We hope we haven't missed anyone's Show-and-Tell, and thank everyone who participated.



King Arthur's Treasure: All you have to do is bring five foreign coins, tokens, wooden money, or paper money, whatever is surplus to your collection. For every 5 items you receive a ticket to the draw. Or if you can't part with any of your treasure, you can purchase tickets for a buck apiece.

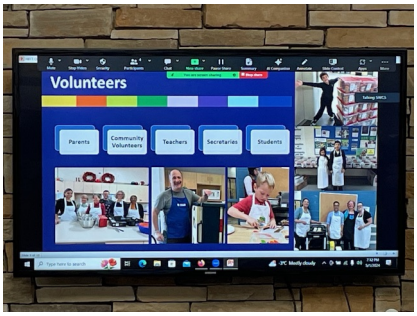
May's KAT was won by Dan Kennaley, shown here behind Doug and in front of Andrew. We didn't get a tally of the winnings, but you can see his look of delighted anticipation for the hefty haul of coins and cash!

Daytona Draw: There is no limit to the number of tickets you can buy at $2 each. The lucky holder of the winning ticket gets to choose one of six envelopes, each one corresponding to a prize worth at least $50 retail, and one of them wins an RCM Maplegram gold, worth over $100 at melt price! All six envelopes are a great prize to win, but since we've been maintaining gold in one of the envelopes, it's been even more exciting. The chosen envelope is then put up for auction, and the ticket holder can keep the envelope or accept the cash offer of the winning bid.

Our Editor and Geek in Residence David Carpenter held the winning ticket, and turned down Mikey's high bid of $50, instead taking a chance on winning the gold. David's envelope didn't have the gold, but did win him a gorgeous 13-coin 1992 Sterling Silver set featuring the provinces and territories depicted on Canada's 125th anniversary quarters, and the commemorative loonie. The set retails for $100! Scott won't have to lug this one around for any more months wating for a winner, but we still have gold for the taking! Remember that you can't count on buying the envelope in the auction, but you can win the envelope and refuse the offer only by buying a ticket.

Educational Presentation: Maureen Mclaughlin gave an excellent presentation on how just 2 dollars impacts your community when you are asked to donate at the grocery store checkout.

Maureen let us know how all of the money donated to Halton Food For Thought goes into feeding the kids, and that 3 of the 5 food groups must be served every morning. She explained that the goal of Halton Food For Thought is to be in every school in Halton Hills. Feeding kids is very important, as a hungry student is not ready to learn. Halton Food For Thought also helps with food going into the young centers within Halton. Every school year over 2 million healthy meals and snacks are served in schools in Halton Hills.



Andrew Strachan talked about his program that feeds 160 kids every morning at Ethel Gardiner Public School in Georgetown. Andrew has been doing this for 15 years and was recently presented with an award from the town of Halton called The Volunteer Inspire Award for his volunteering. It goes to show your donation of just 2 dollars does have a huge impact, when we multiply that 2 dollars by the number of donors like you: it does make a difference. You can donate directly to Halton Food For Thought through their website https://www.haltonfoodforthought.com/ .

You can present at our meetings too! It doesn't have to be fancy, just speak to what excites you about numismatics, and what you know.

Auction: All our auction lots sold again! This auction featured a large number of silver half dollars, and groups of silver 25¢ and 10¢ at way below melt! We noticed Lowell was very pleased with his purchases, and perhaps also happy to be a bidder for the first time in years. Thanks to auctioneer Mike Hollingshead, coordinator Jason Gibbs, and runners David Carpenter and Danny Bolton. Contact Jason if you have items to consign: jlgibbs30@hotmail.com. Thanks to everyone who bid!

THANK YOU! WE LOVE OUR VOLUNTEERS! Thanks to Ernie Blair and John Q. Smith for providing beverages and yummy treats. We send Linda all our positive vibes for recovery and hope she'll be back with us very soon. Thanks again to Mikey for selling draw tickets, and also our appreciation to all who helped set up the room before the meeting, and helped clean it up and put it back into order afterward.

Spring Guelph Coin Show

April's Spring Show was a great success! We made a decent profit while providing the public with quality show time and the dealers with a fabuous day of buying and selling. Drizzly weather was surely a help in getting the crowd to come out instead of staying home to garden.

Final attendance number was 284 paid through the door, with a number of kids and a few adults admitted for free at the end of the day for about 325 total guests attending. Scott and Mike report that all the dealers were happy. We'd like to thank Doug Wilson and Amy Noble for running the admission table, Rose Van Sickle for running food orders for the dealers, and to all the club members who came out the day of the show as well as the night before to help set up, tear down, and help the dealers run their stuff between the show and their vehicles. We couldn't run this show without your help!

The kids' table sold about $200 worth of extra coin, note and reference inventory, plus another $80 in face value coins supplied by members at cost. We had some very happy young customers! Thanks to David Carpenter, Sean Sinclair and Andrew Strachan for helping out. Consider selling or donating your extras for the Fall Show kids' table to help us replenish our stock and to offer some interesting items to spark their collecting interests.

This show's Dealer Draw was for a bottle of Cuban rum, courtesy of Mike Hollingshead. The ticket drawn by Scott, who awared this coveted prize to Doug Graham of Mount Forest.

We hope to broaden our advertising reach for the upcoming Fall Show. If you have any ideas to share or want to help us advertise, please contact Mike.

Alaska Mint 2024 Medallions

by Judy Blackman, FRCNA, FONA, KStE-Cda/USA
Images by Alaska Mint

The Alaska Mint operation has produced some beautiful medallions over the years, and 2024 is no exception! Mike and Michele Robuck are the current owners and operators of the mint, and their sons Gunnar and Hunter are active in the business too. The family has been producing jewellery, bullion, and medallions for nearly 60 years. The family originated from Colorado before relocating to Alaska when Mike was just 4-years-old. The business was first known as Robuck & Sons. In addition to the mint in Anchorage, the family has several stores around Alaska. The gold and silver medallions are struck at their 4th Avenue location in downtown Anchorage. These medallions are detailed designs after original sculptures. Alaska Mint buy raw gold from placer minders and gold bearing quartz that is mined deep underground. The medallions vary in price depending on if you get silver, silver with gold highlights, or gold. Additionally, the Christmas medallion is available framed in a tree ornament with engraving available to personalize it.

Here is a 2024 1-oz Proof-Like Silver Medallion featuring the Official State of Alaska on the reverse. This medallion is designed by Alaskan artist, Ira Levinton. These silver medallions are struck with specially prepared sand-blasted dies that give them a satin finish, and a reeded edge instead of the edge with lettering. The surface of the medallion can be handled without leaving fingerprints. The Bull Moose in Alaska are magnificent and iconic creatures emblematic of the state's vast wilderness and untamed beauty.

One of the medallions shown earlier in this article, features a gold prospector on the back of a Bull Moose and it is based on this photo taken over a hundred years ago in the Yukon. The prospector had trained this moose for riding. Historically, some Indigenous peoples in northern regions may have semi-domesticated moose for purposes such as transportation. This medallion is available in golden bronze, 1 oz .999 fine silver, 1 oz single gold relief (24k plating on the front of the silver coin) and 1 oz double gold relief (24k gold plating on both sides). The reverse features our popular “Land of the Midnight Sun” design.

Another medallion displayed earlier in this article is the 2024 Official Iditarod Medallion (52nd running of the Iditarod sled dog race). Dallas Seavey won his 6th Iditarod “The Last Great Race On Earth—1,049 miles / 1,688 kilometers from Anchorage to Nome. This trail was established in history in 1925 used by dog team bring 300,000 units of life-saving diphtheria serum to an epidemic in Nome. He was the youngest musher to ever run the Iditarod, the youngest to win it, and now the first to have won six times. A donation from the sale of each medallion is made to the Iditarod committee to help bring back the race year after year. This coin is available in the same specs as the above medallion.

This is the 2024 Christmas Moose & Friends Medallion shown earlier in this article. These are available in the same specs mentioned above for the prospector coin, with the option of personalized engraving on the reverse. Depending on which spec you order, the ornament may have a metal hook or a ribbon.
